Breakers

In a statement emailed to the Daily News, the hotel said: "The Breakers does not permit guests to engage in conduct in public spaces that disrupts the experience of others. In this case, a guest was filming on a tripod in a public space and speaking loudly, disturbing other guests.

"The Breakers' security politely requested the guest identify himself, lower his volume, and refrain from use of the tripod. The guest refused to comply. As a result, the guest was asked to leave. Acceptable standards of conduct apply equally to everyone, and we unequivocally deny any allegation of discrimination."

The Palm Beach Daily News spoke to James Tuesday morning ahead of his time reading to children for Literacy Day at the Ann Norton Sculpture Gardens in West Palm Beach. James was invited to participate in the 16th annual event by the Barbara Bush Foundation, which booked him at The Breakers for a three-night stay for which he arrived Sunday.

"I understand, I wasn't allowed to use a tripod, that's fine," he said Tuesday, adding, "But then he said I was making a disturbance at the pool deck. That's what the call was. But this is the problem: When I realized you come straight to me instead of to the pool, it was never about the pool."

Children's Foundation to host Walk the Walk kickoff event

Palm Beach Daily News | USA TODAY NETWORK

Promising appetizers, champagne and a luxurious clothing selection, The Children's Foundation of Palm Beach County will be hosting a kickoff for its third annual Walk at the Walk event at women's boutique Veronica Beard, in conjunction with fashion brand Frame.

Scheduled for 5:30 p.m. today at 340 Royal Poinciana Way, where Veronica Beard and Frame are located, the evening will also feature a complimentary raffle with prizes including a seven-to-nine-night Caribbean escape to the four-star Pineapple Beach Club in Antigua. A portion of the sales made during the event will be going to the foundation.

Co-chairing the event are Sharyn Frankel, Barbara Stoller Wittenstein, Linda Schaps and Beth Schlager.

"We are delighted that Veronica Beard and Frame are holding the kickoff again this year to raise money for Palm Beach County's children," Frankel said. "There are so many underserved kids in the area that need our help."

The event sets the stage for the Walk the Walk, which is part of the Garden of Life Palm Beaches Marathon Weekend. It begins with an event-filled festival at 9 a.m. Dec. 9 at Post Park on Datura Street in downtown West Palm Beach. The festivities offer a host of family-oriented events including food stations, balloon animals, face painting, stilt walkers
